Changing Landscape Series - Remote Working and Communities - Skills

- Latest trends and developments in remote working
- Two Trailblazing community organisations
- The 'lockdown' has pushed forward by several years the debate about remote working.
- Clann Credo sees remote working as a potential boost for communities, and an opportunity to create communities where everyone can live, work and participate.
- The growth of remote working could complement community development objectives.
- Greater participation locally and ultimately stronger communities.
